CLASS HISTORY

Well, we finally made it. The twelve years flew by for some of us, and for others it has been the longest twelve years of our lives. At least, it seems so now. When we are older and wiser, we will realize how they flew. All of the hardships and good times we have had together lie behind us. Our futures are yet to come. Most of us are anxious to leave high school, and yet, some are not because it means not being together as much, and not seeing our friends as often. For many of us college lies ahead while others will be getting a job.

Our school career started in the first grade with thirty members in our class. We can remember the very first day in school and the thoughts that ran through our minds such as, "Will we ever reach the twelfth grade?" The second grade was much the same as the first. This year we welcomed Roger Nicholas to our class. The third grade was the same old grind. This year the enrollment of our class increased by two with the coming of Brenda Carter and Nena Lamb. In the fourth and fifth grades the work became harder, and we lost and gained students that year. We welcomed Mickey and Sandy Howe. In the sixth, we were excited because next year we would be in Jr. High. In the seventh and eighth grade we thought we were hot shots but found we had a lot to learn. In the seventh grade we welcomed Anne Gibson. In the eighth grade we could hardly wait for our graduation into high school. This year three students joined our class, Linda Owens, Jackie Bennett, and David Graham. Then we were Freshmen in high school. We felt like kings and queens but before it was over we had learned many lessons, and we weren't so big after all. In the first year of our high school career, our class welcomed Marlene Pfoutz. The Sophomore year meant magazine sales and best of all, ordering our class rings. Two more joined our class this year, Sharon Lennex and Gary Welch.

Our Junior year was the busiest and most exciting. The first of our many activities was the ordering of our class sweaters which were royal blue and white. Then we turned to selling ads for the basketball schedule book. We sold ads in every city in the county plus other cities in other counties. Since basketball season was drawing near, we had to get the concessions in order and ready to go. It was a very industrial year and everyone enjoyed working on the concessions. With basketball season over, we started on our Junior play "Seventeen Is Terrific" in which everyone had a helping hand and a lot of fun. With the Junior year drawing to a close, we started getting ready for the Junior-Senior Prom, "Shower of Stars" which was on the mind of every boy and girl in the Junior and Senior class. Then it was over. The prom wound up all too soon our Junior year.

We have experienced a great many events in our Senior year. Our Senior class play, "Going Places", got off to a good start and a great finish. Then we turned to ordering our Senior pictures, yearbooks, robes, key chains, and deciding our class motto, which is, "Today We Explore What Tomorrow We Must Discover." With this thought still in our minds we leave Lewisville High School and turn to the new and unexplored road which lies ahead.
